Is she as dangerous as she looks?

"I'm trained in the traditional Filipino martial art Kali, which is named after the Indian Goddess of Death, so, yeah, maybe a little."

This is Jenny. Consider her Santa's little helper gone bad. This elfin chick has the red-suited man doing things Mrs. Claus could only wish he'd share with her on the workshop tables. As for Jenny's list, she prefers the naughty over nice. Why the leather suit and swords? Well, if you aren't good for goodness sake, expect slow, painful castration, buddy. The Foul staff, with the exception of writer/reviewer Greg Wilcox, was fortunate enough to not upset her during this photo shoot. The poor bastard pissed her off, lost his ability to urinate properly, and has since appropriately shortened his surname to Wil. -AQC
